SATURDAY JULY 21.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
LEVI P. MORTON, OF NEW YORK.

ANANIAS IN POLITICS.

One of the chief features in the politics of the opposition parties is the infamous practice of lying. They seem to lie for the pleasure there is in it. One would suppose that the prohibition party, having for its alleged business the suppression of the liquor traffic, would become sober-minded itself, free from presumptuous sins, given to truthfulness, and so on, so that its influence for good might be felt in the campaign. But that is not the kind of political warfare that party wants to make. It is, after falsehood and slander, not truth and fairness.

There is the Union Signal, of Chicago, a paper which pretends to be a religious one, and which supports the prohibition ticket. One would suppose that in such a paper there would be a decent regard for righteousness, and for all that the word truth implies; that there would be even an appearance of decency for police sake if not for the sake of principle. But there isn't any. The Signal, in its partisan hate and in the spirit of Ananias, said the other day:

The files of the Indianapolis Journal for '82 or '83 would be profitable reading for temperance men who think a vote for Harrison will count as much for temperance as a vote for Fisk. During that campaign, in which the submission of a constitutional amendment was one of the issues, the Journal kept standing at the head of the editorial column, as the key note of the campaign, a statement signed "Benjamin P. Harrison," in which occurred this sentence: "I am unalterably opposed to prohibition." Its position then was that: while personally opposed to prohibition, he favored the submission to the people of a prohibitory amendment, and an amendment for women's ballot. True on the temperance question his stand was just the same as that of the New York Republicans, and so far as we can ascertain, he still maintains that position.

It is always best to be charitable and kindly disposed to mantle the faults and weaknesses of papers and men, and therefore it would be nothing more than Christian-like to suppose that the Union Signal made that charge in good faith. But when that paper was informed that Harrison said no such thing and never thought of such a thing because he is an anti-temperance Republican, and that the Indianapolis Journal never printed any such card and never received one, the Union Signal with all its venom and hate still charges that Harrison made that statement and that the Journal published it.

The Christian Advocate of Indianapolis, answers the Signal in this wise: "For malicious and bad untruthfulness it equals the Indianapolis Sentinel's best attempts in that line. Indeed, we call to mind nothing in political literature to be compared with it since the celebrated Morey letter in 1880. Like that it is a sheer fabrication, and like that it is intended to appeal to the lowest instinct of ignorance and prejudiced people. No such card appeared at the head of the editorial column or any other column at any time or in any issue of that paper in '82 or '83, or any other year, signed by Benjamin P. Harrison or any other Harrison, nor was there ever anything like it in substance or fact, either editorial or otherwise."

But still the Signal has been seduced by the prohibition leaders and by demagogues into pressing on in this dastardly way of publishing the lie. It does not want to be truthful, nor fair, nor even to show a pretense of decency in the management of the campaign.

A MIXED UP MESS.

It is suggested by the Milwaukee Sentinel that "there should be an immediate congress of the free-trade editors and speakers in order to settle their convictions." This suggestion was made for the reason that there is no well established or definite principle governing those who support Cleveland; neither is there any harmony of opinions among his supporters as to the effect of a protective tariff. There is a language condition of fulgore on this subject in the democratic party. For instance, the New York World declares that "every democrat who comes out for Harrison is a manufacturer, the recipient of bounties under the tariff who is getting rich at the expense of the community." The Boston Post another free-trader, declares that "the manufacturers are not prosperous to-day."

The Boston Post argues the repeal of the wool duty on the ground that "high duties on imports have never insured high prices for the domestic clip." The New York Evening Post says the high price of clothing and the embarrassment of the manufacturers is due to "the high price of wool under the protective tariff."

The New York Times says our "manufacturers would be more prosperous under free trade and would be able to pay better wages to their operatives." The New York World in a way that no matter how prosperous they may be, manufacturers prefer to pay low wages.

The Nashville American, the leading democratic paper in Tennessee, supports Cleveland because he is not a free trader. The New York Times supports Cleveland because he is a free trader.

The Birmingham Age, the widely circulated democratic paper of Alabama, says the democratic platform, does not mean free trade, it did, the party would lose New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. The Louisville Courier-Journal is enthusiastic in its support of Cleveland because he believes in free trade.

laud because he has broken his pledge on civil service reform. Harper's Weekly endorses him because "he has made considerable progress in establishing genuine civil service reform."

The New York Sun in a very short and comprehensive statement says:

Benjamin Harrison is in favor of conducting the civil service on Pendleton's Chinese principle. No politics, but competitive literary examinations.

Greiver Cleveland has shown himself in favor of putting in office men of his own party. He is for strengthening his party by proper appointments to office.

Therefore vote for Cleveland and against Harrison.

Harper's Weekly, the Springfield Republican, and in fact all the newspaper papers, will vote for Cleveland because he does not strengthen his party by turning republicans out and putting democrats in.

How different is the course of republicans and republican papers! Harrison is supported with remarkable unanimity and enthusiasm because he is not only distinguished for his ability and personal worth, but because he stands square footed on a protection platform which says a thing and means it. If there is any one thing that makes the republicans strong and entitled to all honor, it is consistency. The democratic party, just as George William Curtis says, never had a definite policy or a fixed principle that it dare maintain. It is antagonistic to everything that is consistent. It manes to get on the wrong side of all the great question of the day, and it never succeeds in acquiring power, unless by accident or through violence and fraud.

The Rev. E. P. Roe, the novelist, is dead. He studied for the ministry, was chaplain of a New York cavalry regiment, and after the war was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Highland Falls, New York. When the Chicago fire took place he wrote a story, "Barriers Burned Away," which became popular.

and thenceforth he devoted himself to manufacturing novels. (There are differences of opinion as to the worth of his works from a moral or intellectual point of view. The Evening Wisconsin says of Mr. Roe's books: "Their goodly goodness and the marvellously sudden development of moral worth which almost all the characters of almost all the books invariably show, have been unwholesome in moral influence and have contributed a great deal more to morbid sentimentality than to healthy moral growth. The characters in his books on the average are a libel upon the individuality and nobleness of American manhood and womanhood." This may be putting the case pretty strongly, but all intelligent readers will probably confess that Roe's works have little permanent value attached to them. They were made to sell, not to live.

A dispatch from Geneva Lake says that all the personal property of John E. Burton, the mining king of the Gogebic range will be sold next month to satisfy a mortgage covering all the property, and a number of pieces of real estate to the amount of $50,000. This was due July 1st, and was not paid. Attorney Charles S. French has seized all the personal property and advices to sell it at auction beginning August 7. The property consists of all the live stock and farm implements on nine large farms which Burton had bought in his prosperous days. There are over 100 horses, some of which are trotters and of good pedigree; many Shetland ponies which he imported two years ago; 250 cows, including a fine herd of imported registered Guernseys. The dispatch says that Burton will be completely stripped, but this is not a fact. Burton has saved a house worth $10,000, and when Gene Lake stock was on the rise, his wife, it is estimated, took $20,000 and safely invested it for a rainy day. So John is not a poor man yet.

This is the condition of things in New York since the contract system in prisons was abolished: The warden of Sing Sing reports that 350 men will become idle on the 20th of July, and 650 more early in August. The Warden of Auburn reports that he will have to look up 500 men on the 15th of July, and 150 more early in August. At Clinton prison only a part of the available forces are now employed, and the warden reports that they will be out of work by the 1st of August. Unless some relief is afforded the great body of men in the state prisons must be locked in their cells, for the period of nearly six months. The legislature appropriated but $750,000 to provide for the employment of 2,000 men. The preceding legislature had furnished $1,300,000 for the employment of an average number of 1,300 men, then engaged on the prison industries. The average number of men to be employed had increased 100 per cent, but the appropriation of money was reduced almost 85 per cent. This appropriation is practically gone.

In 1848 an Iowa man died a miser of $75 for the loss of a horse in the Mexican war. The claim has just been allowed, and he will now be able to get another horse. However "his" country may be regarded by our European friends, it was never how to be rich in the matter of settling claims. It took congress 30 years to settle the Mexican prize case, and the $12,000 was allowed one year after the old man died in the poorhouse. The Iowa man is to be congratulated that he lived long enough to receive the $75.

McGargie, the Chicago hoodler, is, back in the Northwest Territory, Canada. In a letter to a friend he says he is a great social favorite, especially with the ladies and the clergy. He is a member of the English church choir and on extra occasions sings with the Methodists. Canada is a remarkable country. It is a paradise. It has more hoodlers, more forgers, and more back-scratchers than any other country. And they have been furnished by the United States.

It was under one of these "revenue tariffs" in 1857 that the country suffered the greatest financial panic it ever experienced. In 1842, when a protective tariff went into operation the country recovered from the effects of the panic. So popular was this tariff that in 1844 the democrats pretended to be in favor of it, just as they have always pretended to be in favor of protective tariff in campaign years, in doubtful manufacturing states.

Guth says of Gen. Harrison as a speaker: "He is one of the strongest speakers in this country to stand before him and to feel him. There is something of the shaggy mastiff or lion in his face, beard and neck. He speaks with his chest and shoulders and his voice might well be admired in giving a battle command."

The democrats of Michigan have lined with the greenbackers of that state. This shows that the democrats have no confidence, and are in the market. Whenever the democrats become frightened they want to face with somebody, even with a greenbacker.

In 1840 the whigs gave Harrison 234 electoral votes and the democrats gave Van Buren 60. The republicans will be more liberal this year. They will allow Cleveland 153 and save 248 for Harrison.

Another democrat has jumped on the republicans loaded wagon. It is Henry L. Fish, a life-long democrat and ex-mayor of Rochester, New York.

STRUCK IT RICH.

A Michigan Mine Turns Out to Be a Bonanza.

ASTONISHING RESULT OF A BLAST.

A Mass of Gold-Bearing Rock, Valued at $10,000, Discovered by the Explosion—Great Excitement at Ishpeming.

ISHPEMING, Mich., July 21.—The richest lot of gold rock ever taken from a mine east of the Rocky Mountains was brought into Ishpeming from the Lake Superior Iron Company's gold shaft, seven miles northeast of there. Over 300 pounds of the rock was discovered by a single blast. The gold is so abundant that it sticks out of the rock, and the best chemists place the value of the 300 pounds of rock at $10,000. It is believed that the rock will "pay out" $100,000 a ton. This is the first rich discovery in the shaft, and many minor discoveries have not been made public. The quartz vein on which the shaft was sunk was discovered three years ago by Ishpeming men, who excepted the vein from the company's property, which exposed a rich pocket of gold-bearing quartz, nothing was done because the property was owned by the Lake Superior Iron Company, which would not sell the property. Last summer the company put a few miners at work on the property, and a test shaft was sunk about fifteen feet, at the bottom of which a small pocket was struck which produced gold-carrying rock which assayed $40,000 to the ton. All work was suspended then, and nothing was done until a month ago. Rich rock has been encountered all along, and the wonderful find has set the people wild. The last shaft is down twenty-two feet and is about eighteen inches wide at the bottom. The Michigan gold mine, which adjoins the shaft, has found rich rock in smaller quantities. There is no doubt that one of the greatest gold mines in the world has been found at Ishpeming.

The Lake Superior shaft is located on the northeast corner of section twenty-five, township forty-eight, range twenty-eight west. The shaft is sunk on the west-ern inclination of a hill which rises some 300 feet above a little lake to the northwest. The vein which carries the gold is from eighteen inches to six feet wide. Five hundred feet east, where the Michigan Gold Company has a shaft, the vein is twelve feet wide. From the Michigan Company's property some very good results have been obtained, and in considerable quantities have been found at a number of points along the Michigan workings, where the quartz vein has been uncovered for over 1,000 feet. West of the shaft no exploring has been done. The exploratory work of the Lake Superior Company has been confined to sinking a shaft and cross-cutting the vein on the surface merely to test its length. Messrs. John W. Jochim, now in Sweden; Judge Henry Mildon, Robert Nelson, Chicago, and others have options or leases on land to the westward and exploring on these tracks will begin at once. No talk but of gold is heard on the streets, and with such substantial foundation it seems safe to predict a remarkable mining boom. Work on many new prospects will begin at once.

HARRISON IN BED.

The Republican Nominee Fatigued by the Work Attendant Upon His Many Receptions.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 21.—General Harrison passed almost the entire afternoon and evening in bed, "not sick, but simply resting," as Mrs. Harrison declared to the occasional callers who she received throughout the afternoon. The General has a large number of engagements of his next week, over a dozen delegations having signified their intention of calling. Chairman Huston, of the State Committee, is very anxious to put a stop to hand-shaking by the candidate. The General protests that his arm is all right, but Chairman Huston and others of his friends do not disguise their fear that the General will wear himself out if he persists in shaking hands with his many callers.

At Philadelphia—New York, 7; Philadelphia, 6 (ten innings). At American Association: At Cleveland—Cleveland, 3; Cleveland, 2. At St. Louis—St. Louis, 15; Kansas City, 5. At Western Association: At Des Moines—Des Moines, 7; Kansas City, 5. At Minneapolis—Chicago, 10; Minneapolis, 2. At Indianapolis, 0. At Washington—Washington, 2; St. Paul, 1. At Omaha—Omaha, 17; Sioux City, 13. At Interstate League: At Bloomington—Terre Haute, 4; Bloomington, 0. At Peoria—Peoria, 5; Peoria, 5.

Nominated for Congress.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 21.—The Eighth Congressional district Union Labor convention met last night and divided one faction nominating George C. Calhoun, of Adams County, for Congress and the other endorsing Congressman Anderson.

McMinnville, Tenn., July 21.—Credited by the Chicago Times, was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Third district after 347 ballots had been taken.

CROPS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Bright Outlook for Farmers in Minnesota and Dakota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 21.—Crop prospects throughout the Northwest have seldom been more favorable, at this season than at present. More than an average yield of the best grade of wheat is all but secured. The hay crop in all parts of the State and Dakota is claimed to be better than in any season being secured in most sections in good condition. The usual complaints about chinch bugs, rust, lodged grain, thin stand, short locusts, weedy fields, rank growth of stub and danger from frosts, are coming in to some extent, but in much smaller numbers and in less violent terms than last year, and the amount of damage done, added to the thousands of grasshoppers, will not be a comparatively small figure in the total yield of the State and Territory. Some rust has been reported in western portions of Minnesota and Iowa and in some localities of the James and Red river valleys. Chinch-bugs in Southern Minnesota and in Wisconsin have done a good deal of injury, in many places completely destroying fields of barley, wheat and oats. The grasshopper question promises at the time to be an important one, but thanks to the measures taken for the extermination of the pest, the damage was confined to a small figure. Late reports from Parkham, Minn., located on the Red river, say that more than 10,000 bushels of grasshoppers have been gathered and destroyed. Wild birds and weasels are causing some trouble all over the Northwest, but there is little probability that early reports of the crop crop at this point will average so low in grade as that of last year did.

The principal danger now lies in possible blight in the south and west in the north. From now on but little rain is needed and no danger is feared from drought.

THE TEACHERS' ADJOURN.

Close of the 'Frisco Convention—Officers Elected—Topics Discussed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The National Teachers' Association closed their officers: President, A. P. Marble, of Worcester, Mass.; Secretary, James H. Canfield, of Lawrence, Kan.; Treasurer, E. C. Hebert, of Normal, Ill.

The theme for consideration to-day was "The Relation of the State to School Books and Appliances." Papers were read by John Smith, of San Francisco; Albert J. P. Marble, of Massachusetts; and B. W. Stevenson, of Ohio. At the evening session Mrs. Edna Scott Paulson spoke on the subject of "Physical Training from the School Standpoint," and papers were read by Nellie E. Gwynne, of San Francisco, upon "Workings of the Teachers' Aid Society," and by W. N. Auld, of Rhode Island, upon the "American Idea of Labor." The convention was closed with the benediction.

NEW YORK'S LEGISLATURE.

The Use of Machinery in Prisons and the Aqueduct Commission Abolished.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 21.—The Legislature in extra session abolished the use of machinery in the penal institutions of the State. Convicts will be employed only at hand labor upon goods required in the prison system. The Legislature also abolished the New York City Aqueduct Commission, which has been under investigation by the Senate, prompted by charges that Governor Hill had interfered with the commission and the certain contractors on the works. The creation of a new commission of seven, upon which shall be three city officials, is delegated by the Legislature to Mayor Hewitt.

EX-GOVERNOR YOUNG.

A Former Executive of the State of Ohio Passes Away.

CINCINNATI, O., July 21.—General Thomas Young died at his residence. He was born in Ireland, but came with his parents to America when quite young, and when only identified in the regular army. He served in the volunteer service during the late war, coming out with the rank of Brigadier-General. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio with E. B. Hayes in 1875, and filled the office of Governor after Hayes became President. In 1878 he was elected to Congress and was re-elected in 1880. Two years ago he was elected a member of the Board of Public Affairs of this city, which office he held until his death.

A VICTIM OF REMORSE.

The Physician Who Attended Mr. Mandeville in Tullahoma Prison Commits Suicide.

DUBLIN, July 21.—Dr. James Ridley, the medical officer in attendance at Tullamore jail during Mr. Mandeville's incarceration there, and who was subpoenaed to appear at the inquest at Mitchellstown into Mr. Mandeville's death, has committed suicide. Dr. Ridley had been present at the inquest daily, waiting to be called to the witness stand. The evidence given to show that Mr. Mandeville was subjected to ill usage while in the jail seemed to prey upon his mind. His suicide confirms the popular belief that Mr. Mandeville was cruelly treated by the prison officials.

Drunk Man Drowned.

TRINITY RIVER, Cal., July 21.—A river man from up the river tells a thrilling story. He was one of a party of fifty log-drivers. At the rapids on Mattawan river they got whisky, and fourteen of them, while intoxicated, tried to shoot the rapids in a big boat, which was overturned, and all were drowned or killed on the rocks.

The Discoverer of Howe's Cave Dead.

CANADIAN, N. Y., July 21.—Lester Howe has just died at Cobleskill, aged 73. On May 22, 1842, he discovered the now famous Howe's cave, next in size to Mammoth cave. All his children were married in the cave.

Fifteen Men Killed.

LARDO, Tex., July 21.—A well-authenticated report has reached Lardo of a disastrous wreck of a construction train on the Mexican National railway at Front, in which fifteen men were killed. Further particulars are as yet unknown.

ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT.

Martin Broderick, of Evansville, Killed by a Runaway Team Near Brodhead.

Meager Details of the Sad and Sudden Ending of His Life.

City Treasurer Michael Murphy received a dispatch this morning from Evansville, stating that his uncle, Mr. Martin Broderick, of Evansville, had been killed by a runaway team near Brodhead. But brief details of the sad and sudden accident can be obtained at this time.

It appears that Mr. Broderick was on his way from his home in Evansville to Brodhead, driving his own team. That his team became frightened and ran away throwing Mr. Broderick out with such force that he received injuries from which he died a few minutes after.

Mr. Murphy, who is a nephew of the deceased, accompanied by his mother, a sister of Mr. Broderick, left on the afternoon train for Evansville and will remain in that village to attend the funeral which will be held to-morrow morning.

A DESOLATED HOME.

Jansville's Record on Sensation Strengthened by Another Elopement.

Pretty Mrs. Kline Leaves for Chicago Under Suspicious Circumstances.

Not only has Jansville an interest in the Wharton elopement at Racine; she has, besides all this, a sensation of her own. The parties in the case appear to be Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, of South Franklin street, Fourth ward, and O. F. Bradford, of Chicago.

Yesterday morning Mr. Kline, who is one of the employees of the Jansville Street Railway Company, saw his wife safely started for Chicago. She had persuaded him to let her go by saying that she wished to visit her sister at No. 754 West Adams street. Mr. Kline suspected nothing until he went home about five o'clock last evening. Then he found under his wife's pillow a letter which she had evidently forgotten in her haste to catch the train. It was from O. F. Bradford, of Chicago, and in it Mrs. Kline was requested to meet Bradford at 138 South Halsted street, Chicago.

Bradford was one of Mrs. Kline's former suitors and judging from the tone of the letter his passion had by no means abated. He wanted Mrs. Kline to start for Chicago with him at once and said that he would have had anything she wanted.

Then his wrath arose as he realized the dishonor that had come on his home. "She has made me trouble enough," he said bitterly. "I want nothing more to do with her. But first I'm going to follow her up and make both her and her partner suffer. What I want is evidence enough for a divorce."

Telegrams were at once sent to Chief Hubbard, of the Chicago police to cause the arrest of "Emma, sometimes known as Mabel Kline, and O. F. Bradford, believed to be at 138 Halsted street, and supposed to be preparing for departure to other cities."

Mrs. Kline is a sister of Eva Parker, who has won so much notoriety in Chicago of late as the complaining witness against the Rev. Mr. Brashers.

DEATH OF MRS. FLAGLER.
Her injuries prove fatal at nine o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Nora Flagler, who was severely injured by the runaway accident at Mr. David Cross' farm house in the town of Jansville yesterday morning, died last evening at nine o'clock from the effects of internal hemorrhage caused from the accident. Mrs. Flagler remained conscious up to the moment of her death. Everything that was possible was done for her relief, but to no effect.

Her funeral will take place from the Congregational church, Milton, Sunday morning at half past nine o'clock.

Miss Alice Flagler, who was severely injured at the same accident, is resting comfortably, and it is thought she will recover.

TWO USEFUL HINTS.
Suggestions That Come With Much Force.

A prominent scientific journal gives one or two suggestions on household economy in hot weather that are well worthy of consideration. It says a simple mode of keeping butter in warm weather is to invert a large crock of earthenware, or a flower pot, if need be (varying with the size of the vessel containing the butter) over the dish or tin in which the butter is held. The porousness of the earthenware will keep the butter cool, and all the more so if the pot be wrapped in a wet cloth, with a little water in the dish with the butter. Not the porousness of the earthenware, but the rapid absorption of heat by external evaporation, causes the butter to become hard.

To expel mosquitoes, take of gum camphor a piece about one-third the size of a hen's egg, and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel, and holding it over a lamp, taking care that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel the mosquitoes, and, even though the windows should be left open all night, they will not enter the room as long as the cork remains.

A VALUABLE BOOK-TALK.
Mrs. John S. Draper, North Academy street, has a handsome memento of the campaign of 1840, which she has used for the past forty-eight years as a book-mark. It is a Harrison and Tyler campaign badge, printed on white satin ribbon six inches long by two and one-half inches wide. At the upper end of the badge is an eagle with outstretched wings, holding a long streamer in its beak and of which gracefully flows over the names "Harrison and Tyler;" another streamer is held in the talons of the eagle and is inscribed "Union, '40." "TIPPECANOE." In the center is a fine portrait of the old warrior over which is a scroll bearing the name "Genl Wm. H. Harrison." And underneath is printed "Son of Don J. A. Harrison, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, July 4th, 1776." At the bottom is the old log cabin, with a flag staff and a man and team plowing, underneath is printed "We will take him from the plow!" "US!" Mrs. Draper prizes her "book-mark" very highly, as but few of these badges are now in existence. It is well preserved.
